

The News.

The crisis is past and the Great American Republic is cafe! After four years of civil war, such as was never experienced before since governments were instituted among men, and which involved a saccapture of their capital city, and the surrender of their main army. The remnant of the once powerful army of Northern Virginia under Gen. Robert E. Lee, was yesterday surrendered to Lieut, General V. S. Grant, and the great confederacy is without a local habitation or a name. Let the hells ring, the flage wave, and the cannon thunder out the joy that everywhere animates patriotic hearts this day. "Ring royal bells-ring out great chime!

One has no heart for work such a day as this, and with this glorious news so de voutly prayed for by all of us the past four years, we shall omit our regular edition of the paper this evening. Read the dispatches and thank Goi that your country has at last passed safely through the terrible ordeal of cival war, and that its place upon the map of the world has not been obliterated by the hand of traitors who have been nutared in her own bosom.

Sherman in North Carolina.

The following interesting extract is ta

"The armies are gathering up as fast as they can, for a final blow to the rebellion. Sherman has in the neighborhood of 100. 000 troops at Goldsboro, including Schofield's and Terry's old commands. Terry's is now absorbed in Schoffeld's Grand Division, which will be the center of Sherman's Grand Army, called the Army of the Ohio. Schofield will have two corps, the 16th and 23d. Slocum will command the left Grand Division, or Army of the Cumberland, consisting of the 14th and Howard will right Grand Division, or Army of the Tonnessee, consisting of the 15th and 17th corps. As new troops are arriving here and going forward to the front every few days, it is possible that by the time Sherman gets ready to move, he may have 120-000, or thereabouts; but I think it safest to estimate his entire effective force at

I had an excellent opportunity to see Sherman last Saturday night, when he went through here, on his way to meet Grant and President Lincoln at City Point. He stopped here long enough to take sup per, and of course was the observed of all observers. He is a nervous, restless fellow, and is said to have remarked on the train, as he was coming down here, that he was going up to see Grant five minutes—that he only wanted to see him just five minutes -that he had got it all chalked out-idolize him. They look upon him as a regular demi-god, and believe that nothing can stand before him. As an illustration, an stand before in. As an invistration, to have been made exceedingly uncomfort a couple of Irishmen belonging to his army, who were just coming back from a furlough, were talking about him here in Newbern, and one of them remarked that he heard that Sherman rather got the worst of it at Benton-ville, on the 19th worst of it at Benton-ville, on the 19th

"What," said the other, "whip Bill Sherman! Why, all the armies in the world couldn't whip Bill Sherman. Jist the half of his army could thrash the bloody murder out of all of thim."

That is the spirit and feeling which pervades Sherman's entire army. The men are all healthy and are spoiling for a fight. They would go through the infernal re-gions it Sherman ordered it. When they come to fight in earnest, that is when there is a chance for a hig fight with I ce, (if Lee ever offers any such opportunity.)
You need have no fears for the result. It will be like unchaining a pack of tigers, and I know it to be a fact that the rebs have lost their spirit. They pitch in desperately at first, but as soon as the first excitement or desperation is over, they have no hope in reserve to stimulate them, and encourage them to keep up the fight. Their grit is all gone.

Sherman and the western troops are the lione here now. They are in everybody's mouth, and I can tell you that it does a western man's soul good, to hear what is said of them—the wonder expressed at their deeds—the anecdotes told of them and the universal admission of their superiority. Sherman's boys were very ragged and dirty, even, when they arrived at Goldsboro, but they are being reclethed as fast as possible, and will soon be ready for the war path again. It is amusing to hear some of them talk about the papercollar soldiers and officers who have been doing garrison duty around Newbern and vicinity, for the past year or two. I met two or three of Sherman's men who came down here with a guard over some prisoners, and stopped to talk with them. They said they were in a hurry to get back with their old comrades—that they were all dandy soldiers here, and they didn't feel at lome among them. I told them that the soldiers here all thought a great deal of Sherman's men. "Yes!" said they, "but we are too dirty and ragged for the Newbern dandies. Sherman's bummers are the boys for us." THE WAR FOR THE UNION!

That fraternal feeling is one of the great secrets of the success of Sherman's army. The officers and men are almost universal y united as one man, They are all hale ellows well met, and any one is as good as the other, so long as he proves himself a good soldier. Among the officers there s not that snobbishness and exclusiveness that there is among many of the eastern officers. It is not strange that this is so, when one reflects that the characterestics of society, and the habits and manners of individuals, are altogether different in the West from what they are in the East. This is true, notwithstanding the Westerners all emigrated originally from the

And he did o, at the same time pitching his tents in the yard, among the flowers and shrubvery. What became of the citizen, or what to thus summarily vacate his own premises. I have not learned. When the General arst arrived, however, he pitched his tents dongside of the road, and as his troops ame marching into town, he stood in front of a tent, in his shirt sleeves, with a cigar in his mouth, and an old felt hat on his head, to view them as they passed. There was no estentation about him, and if any of his soldiers wished to shake hands with him, and were respectful in their manner, DETAILS OF THE SURRENDER! the privilege was granted. The General is severe on the inhabi-

For miles around Goldsboro the farm manions have been destroyed, and his bum-mers are permitted to forage at will. In act he encourages them, and of course they are not backward in finding it out and acting accordingly. As they go out foraging, therefore, incidently they borrow a horse occasionally, or a cow, or fowls, or watches, or silver ware, or perhaps a house is now and then accidentally burn-

Appumattox Court House, April 9, 1865. -To Gen. R. E. Lee, commanding C. S. A. :- Iu accordance with the substance of my letter to you of the 8th inst., I propose to receive the surrender of the army of company or regimental commander eign a like parole for the men of their commands. The arms, artillery, and public property to be parked and stacked, and turned over to the officers appointed by me to receive them. This will not embrace the side arms of the officers, nor their private horses or baggage. This lone, such of-ficers and men will be allowed to return to their homes, not to be disturbed by the United States authorities as long as they observe their parole and the laws in force where they may reside,

Very respectfully,

U. S. GRANT, Lieut, Gen.

Headquarters Army of Northern Virginia, April 9, 1855.—Gen. U. S. Grant Commanding U. S. A:—GENERAL—I have received your letter of this date containing the terms of surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia, as proposed by you. As they are substantially the same as those expressed in your letter of the 8th designate the proper officers to carry the stipulations into effect.

Very Respectfully, Your Obedient Servant,

R. E. LEE, Gen. The following is the previous correspondence between Lt. Gen. Grant and Gen. Lee, referred to in the foregoing telegram to the Secretary of War:

Clifton House, Va., April 9, 1865-To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: —The following correspondence has taken place between Gen. Lee and myself. There has been no relaxation in the pursuit during its pending. U. S. GRANT, ring its pending. Lieut. Gen.

To Gen. R. E. Lee, Commanding Confederale States Army: -GENERAL: The result of the last week must convince you of the hopelessness of further resistance on announced hereafter, to carry into effect the part of the army of Northern Va., in the last preceding recoiling this struggle. I feel that it is so, and reas the Northern army of Virginia.

Very Respectfully, Yours, &c.,

U. S. GRANT.

To U. S. Grant, Communating U. S. Forces: GENERAL: I have received your note of this date. Though not entirely of the opinion you express of the hopeless. ness of further resistance on the part of the army of Northern Virginia, I reciprocate your desire to avoid useless effusion of blood, and therefore before considering your proposition, ask the terms you will offer on condition of its surrender R. E. LEE. (Signed,)

General.

April 8 .- To General Robert E. Lee, Commanding :- GENERAL :- Your note of last evening in reply to mine of the same day, asking on what conditions I will accept the surrender of the army of Northern Virginia, is received. In reply, I would say that there is but one condition that I insist upon, viz: that the men sur-rendered shall be disqualified for taking up arms again, against the Government of the United States, until properly ex changed. I will meet you, or designate officers to meet any officers you may name for the same purpose, at any point agreea-ble to you, for the purpose of arranging definitely the terms upon which the sur-render of the army of Northern Virginia will be received.

Very respectfully, your obedient ser-ant, U.S. GRANT, Lt. Gen. Com'dg Armies of the U.S.

April 8th .- GENERAL ;-I received at a late hour your note of to-day in answer to mine of yesterday. I did not intend to propose the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia, but to ask the terms of your proposition. To be frank, I do not think the emergency has arrived to call for surrender, but as the restoration of peace should be the sole object of all, I desire to know whether your proposals would tend to that end. I cannot therefore, meet you with a view to surrender the Army of Northern Viginia, but as far as your proposition may effect the C. S. A. forces un der my command, and tend to the restor ation of peace, I should be pleased to meet you at 10 a.m., to-morrow, on the old Stage road to Richmond, between the picket line of the armies. Very Respectfully &c., R. E. LEE, Gen.

To Gen. R. E. Lee, commanding G. S. A. -General: - Your note of yesterday is received. As I have no authority to treat on the subject of peace, the meeting pro posed for 10 a. m. today, could lead to no good. I will state, however, General, that am equally anxious for peace with your-self, and the whole North entertain the same feeling. The terms upon which peace can be had are well understood.
